The Bartley Long-Felt-Want has moved up to Indianola, and will proceed to ascertain just how much patience and forbearance the people of that devoted burg possess.

FARMERS: Go and see that splendid Clydesdale horse at the livery barn of D. C. Marsh. He is a beauty and no mistake. We are glad to have such a horse in McCook.

Did you ever notice that when a man drops a piece of meat, or anything of that sort on the floor, no difference how clean the floor may be, he will either give it a kick or pick it up and lay it to one side. He will never eat it. But let him drop his plug of tobacco on the streets, and no difference how dirty the streets may be, he will pick it up, give it a careless wipe on his coat sleeve or on the bosom of his pants, then take a big chew from it with a keener relish than ever. That's the kind of vitrified brick a man is.—Ex.

"The Interstate Milkmaids' Convention," Menard's opera house, Tuesday evening, May 19th, W. R. C.

Every citizen wants to put himself in a proper frame of mind to attend the irrigation meeting, Saturday evening.

Miss Susie Clay of Cambridge, Monday, entered the millinery department of J. Albert Wells' establishment as apprentice.

This week, B. F. Troxel added to his list of real estate treasures school section number thirty-six in Valley Grange precinct.

Just keep right on talking and working for irrigation. The crank of today will be the wise man of the morrow. Blessed is the crank.

Perhaps one of the most striking evidences of man's superiority is the ghoulish glee he takes in attaching a tin can to a dog's tail.

If the county commissioners keep up the good work of rejecting fees in certain cases, there will be less spite work litigation in Red Willow county in the future.

The man who puts his shoulder to the irrigation movement will have the enviable satisfaction of knowing that he has done what he could to leave his state better than he found it.

The public will surely appreciate the reduced price of ice quoted by P. Walsh, 50 cents a hundred weight. He delivers the very best quality of Driftwood ice at that figure. Wait for his wagon.

The north half of Indianola precinct has been set off into a new precinct which bears the suggestive title of Alliance precinct. The school house in district No. 7 is designated as the polling place.

Never say die—but work every day for irrigation. Western Nebraska must have it, and the "quicker the sooner." Let there be no ease in Zion until the South Side ditch is performing its grand mission of watering the earth.

Andrew Carson was perhaps one of the most surprised men in Red Willow county, Tuesday morning to find four Buffalo around his house upon arising from his slumbers. They were doubtless members of the Buffalo Jones herd which recently escaped from Culbertson and have so far defied capture.

Certainly the handsomest and most elaborate display of flowers ever attempted in McCook was that made at the May Festival and Flower Mound by the ladies and friends of the Baptist church, last Friday afternoon and evening. For all their labor and taste the ladies deserved even more liberal patronage than that accorded. Besides they are proper subjects for congratulation and praise.

Irrigation is not alone an agricultural problem. It is to be hereafter a factor in town building. Nine-tenths of the towns in Nebraska which have suffered from depression during the past year owe their misfortunes to crop failures in 1890. Nine-tenths of the business failures are due to the same cause. If a business man may choose between a town whose agricultural support is precarious, and one whose tributary territory is sure of abundant crop year in and year out, which will he prefer? If he can make choice between dealing with farmers whose property is worth $10 an acre and those where it is worth $50 and upwards, can he hesitate for an instant? Does he want to share the fortunes of the corn-belt, with its serial story of hard-times, or does he prefer the diversified and prosperous agriculture which produces large and sure crops of wheat, alfalfa and potatoes and the rich and manifold fruits of the temperate zone? There is, of course, no comparison between the values of town properties and business opportunities in the irrigated region and those of the sections which depend upon the mercurial disposition of the western rainfall. The good towns in Nebraska will be in the irrigated region. These towns will never be nipped by drouths. They will never have seasons when the only crop harvested will be a crop of bad bills. Irrigation is therefore a very vital factor in western town life. It makes the basis of business sound and solid. For these reasons irrigation is of as much importance to the people of a town as to the inhabitants of its surrounding country.

HANGING LAMPS—Noble is headquarters for hanging lamps. He carries a large and splendid selection.

Prof. Reizenstein is now devoting considerable time with his orchestra in preparing new music for the orchestra benefit ball to be given in the opera hall, May 15th. The social pleasures of the past winter have been notably augmented by the music furnished by the orchestra. They should be encouraged to greater efforts by being most liberally patronized on the occasion of their benefit ball, next Tuesday evening. THE TRIBUNE promises the best music ever played for a ball in our city.

The first of next week, J. Albert Wells will open up a branch establishment in Geneva, Fillmore county. He has secured splendid quarters in the new and elegant hotel building just completed in that place. He will place upon the shelves a complete and attractive stock of dry goods, new and stylish goods; and will in fact give the people of Geneva a first-class dry goods store in every respect. Mr. Joe Wells, son of the proprietor, will be in charge of the branch store.

The Bush & Hagerman Canal company of Hudson post-office, Hayes county, filed articles of incorporation, yesterday, showing that its object is the construction of canals for irrigating and water power purposes in Hayes county. The capital stock is $20,000. The incorporators are John S. Wise, Scott Atwood, William Hagerman, B. H. Bush and John Piper.—To-day's Journal.

If the man who makes two blades of grass grow where one grew before is blessed, what shall be said of the men who are making millions of dollars' worth of agricultural products grow where nothing grew before—who are turning the arid deserts into fruitful farms, orchards and vineyards by irrigation? They are a thousand times blessed.—Irrigation Age.

Do not compromise your own character or do evil that good may come of it to yourself or to others. Henry Ward Beecher once said: "A young man should go out of an establishment where he is required to do wicked things quicker than a shot goes out of a cannon when it is fired."

Irrigation is an insurance policy against the hot south winds. And no farmer sees his crop burned up when he carries that kind of fire insurance.

It is proposed by the millers of Nebraska to establish a central ware-house in which to store the surplus milling product of the state.

Reizenstein's parlor is recognized headquarters for the best cigars and tobaccos. Joe also carries a nice line of smokers' articles.

If you want a stylish fit at the very lowest figures, KAPKE, THE TAILOR, is the man to patronize. Rear of The Famous.

Rye and alfalfa are about six inch high and grass has started so as to be very good feed and a little head of the usual time.

The farmers are rounding up their stock, putting them in herds or pastures, as the grain is getting large enough to cause damage by stock running at large. OBSERVER.

OBSERVATIONS.

From the May Century.

No man is accountable for the mistakes of his friends.

Don't call a spade a spade when it is a shovel. No man ever yet minded his own business who didn't get into trouble.

However great some men's abilities are, their liabilities are always greater.

A man is frequently known by the company he keeps out of.

Honesty is the best policy, because it is the only policy which insures against loss of character.

Don't lose sight of an honorable enemy; he'll make a good friend.

The soaring hawk has no ear for music, and rates the cry of the partridge above the song of the nightingale.

After a while the king will do no wrong, because he will never have a chance.

The man who believes in ghosts may be a better citizen than the one who does not believe in his fellow-creatures.

Fashion and decency should be always on good terms.

For Handy Reference.

One cubic foot of water is equal to 7.48-100 gallons, usually called 7 1/2 gallons.

One cubic foot of water per second of time is the same as 7 1/2 gallons every second, or 450 gallons in a minute.

One cubic foot of water per second will cover an acre one inch deep in one hour.

There are 43,560 square feet in one acre, therefore 43,560 cubic feet of water would cover one acre one foot in depth.

Water increases in velocity or speed as the depth is increased.

Two inches over a weir will give more than double the quantity of water that one inch will give.

The breath of a chronic catarrh patient is often so offensive that he becomes an object of disgust. After a time ulceration sets in, the spongy bones are attacked and frequently entirely destroyed. A constant source of discomfort is the dripping of the purulent secretions into the throat, sometimes producing inveterate bronchitis, which in its turn has been the exciting cause of pulmonary disease. The brilliant results which have attended its use for years past properly designated Ely's Cream Balm as by far the best and only cure.

Charlie Foy, a sturdy Republican war-horse of Box Elder precinct, was in Tuesday, talking politics with the agricultural editor.
